Introduction to Minnamurra

Minnamurra Pastoral Company was established in 1974 by Bruce Reid in the Mudgee district of NSW. Originally running Hereford commercial cattle and the Cortina Poll Hereford Stud, Bruce moved into the Angus breed in the nineties when he teamed up with Dennis Power, our current General Manager, and soon found success in becoming CAAB supplier of the year. In recent years Minnamurra has expanded its footprint across NSW and into Southern Queensland to hold over 150,000 hectares of prime grazing and cropping country, running 10,000 breeding cows in its commercial herd.

In 2011 Dennis was so impressed by the productivity and carcass quality of the Speckle Parks he first saw at the Calgary Stampede, he decided to venture into the breed. But in order to provide sufficient quantities of top quality genetics to underpin the development of the commercial Speckle Park herd, Minnamurra decided to import embryos and semen from the top Canadian studs and establish their own bloodline.

Results to date are impressive, with Minnamurra first cross Speckle Park/Angus steers winning 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in the carcass class of the 2015 Beef Spectacular. (See centre pages).

The stud currently consists of 100 breeding females, and will grow to about 350 over the next few years. It is intended that stud will not only serve the needs of Minnamurra, but will also supply top quality bulls and heifers to other producers to foster the growth of the breed in Australia.

Minnamurra principal David Reid and General Manager Dennis Power with Six Star's RAS Grand Champion Bull "Eagle H20" by Stands Alone 300X who also sired 31 of the bulls in this sale.

- 3rd, 8th and 10th overall,

Team Performance 415.0 /550 pts Ranking 1 of 95 teams

One of the top ranked Minnamurra carcasses

The average weight gain across Minnamurra's twenty steers was 2.53 kg/day, with the highest being 3.41 kg/day, which was the highest weight gain out of the 500 steers entered.

The carcasses ranged from 69% to 71% saleable meat yield. Although no prizes were awarded for profitability, ultimately this is the most important benchmark for a commercial cattle operation, and Minnamurra's top 3 pens came 1st, 2nd & 3rd in profitability, with a team profit across the 3 pens of $742.39 over and above the average achieved by all trial teams.

These results were truly remarkable for the breed, given that Minnamurra had entered the completion mainly for feedback on the progress of their Speckled cross cattle and had picked a representative batch to benchmark, not their lead steers.

Speckle Park has a breed-unique trait of high intramuscular fat without excess marbling – when cooked this largely dissipates leaving a highly flavoursome, tender and healthy meat to eat. Importantly, all the benefits of the breed come out in the first cross, so Speckle Park bulls will put quality and performance into your herd.

"We did not have one sick or dead beast from this lot. Our Feedlot Team Leader said these were some of the best cattle that he has fed in a long time" - Nolan's Meats, Gympie, commenting on the 163 first cross Minnamurra steers they purchased in December 2014 on AuctionsPlus and fed for 110 days.
